Best Wishes

Martha,

There's so much I want to say I can't put it all into words. I can't tell you how much I've thanked God for having you as a friend these past few years & especially this year. We have always been friends but this year we have gotten closer because of events that was close to both of our hearts. (Even though there were sad ones.) We have stuck together through sadness, heartbreak & sorrow, and also through hours of happiness. You have stood by me when I've needed a helping hand & given me enough courage to not give up on things. (-----)

And thanks for always listening to my problems & helping me figure out how to solve them. I think that at times if I hadn't talked to you about certain things I would surely not be here. When I've cried you've tried to console me, and try your very best to get me in a cheerful mood again.

If I hadn't had you to come to with all my problems I honestly don't know what I would have done. I hope you will always be there when I need you to talk to, and I'm sure you will be. Cause you're just the type of person who would never let a friend down when they needed you.

SPIRIT

Martha,

We're finally finished with one more year. Just think next year we're Seniors. Well Martha, I think you're a true Bobcat-there's just nobody else like you. If everyone had as much spirit as you it would be a whole lot easier to chew.

I can't tell you what your friendship has meant to me this year. There's been many times when I came in feeling bad and looked at your smiling face. It always cheers me up.

I want to wish you the best of luck always.

What would a high school be without cheering crowds, bouncy cheerleaders, and class yells? A group of students are bound together by a silent force called "spirit." They hold in common a belief, a pride, a faith. Never will be forgotten the yell, "We're from Gilmer and we couldn't be prouder!"

"Let him have it!"

LEARNING

Martha,
Well, you will be a Senior next year, and I must say that it will be a very short year of your life.
I will never begin to tell you what your friendship and cheerful smile has done for me. ~~Just~~ Just stay that way and you will make it all of the way. Give 'em heck next year in basketball.
A friend,

The purpose of any high school is to enlighten its students. A worn eraser, furrowed brow, raised hand, an eager look are things of beauty. Teaching is an art and learning is a privilege. Thank God for that privilege!

LAUGHTER

"We'll get Slim yet!"

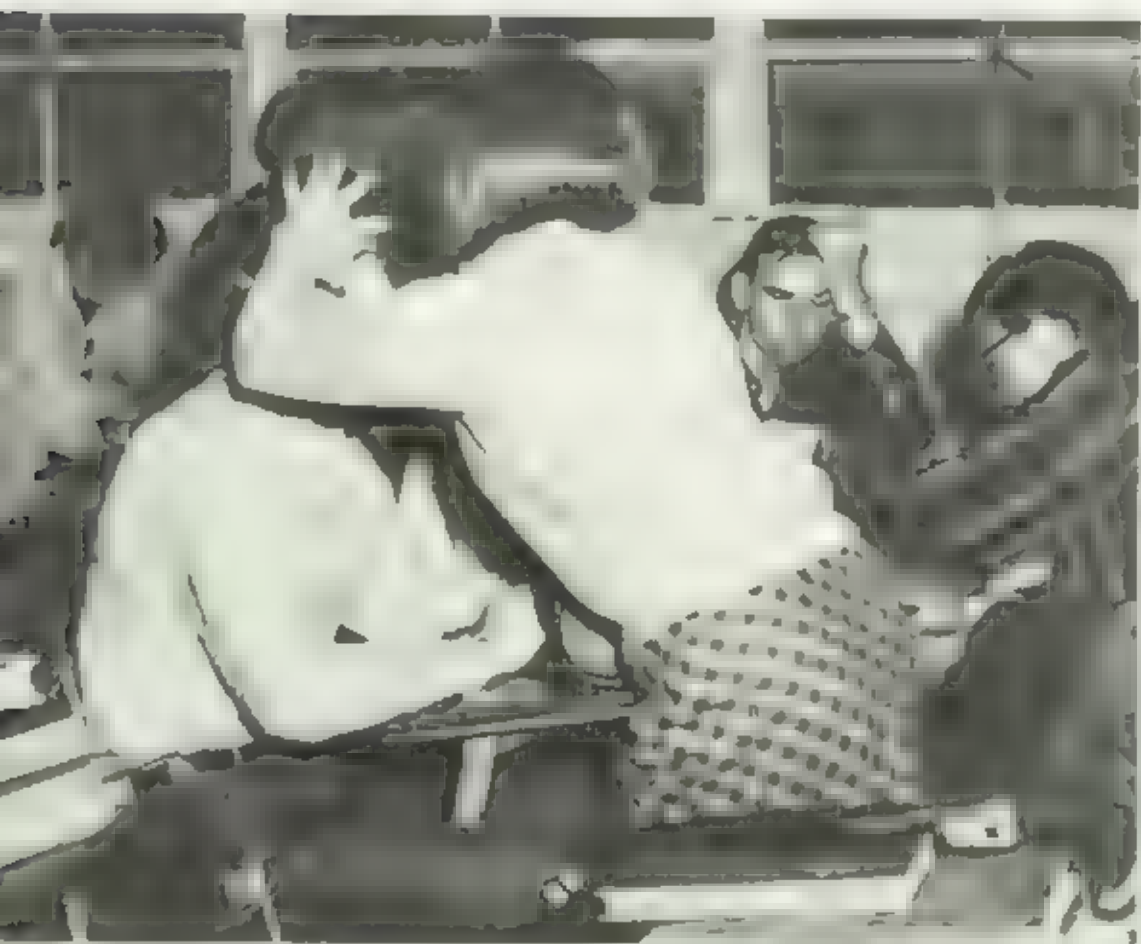

In our youthful years there is much time for carefree moments. A teenager is not a teenager without a frequent smile and friendly laugh. Without our silly moods and ridiculous moments, we would not be able to face the pressures of the present and the demands of the future. It is true courage to be able to smile when you have failed and be willing to try again in the face of hardships.

F.F.A. SWEETHEART

Connie Buffington

Each year the Future Farmers of America elects a senior girl as the F.F.A. Sweetheart. This girl must be a member of the Future Homemakers of America. The Sweetheart is presented a sash by the club and is introduced at the F.F.A. Parent-Son Banquet in the spring.

There may be a simple explanation for this. The first two items are the most common and the last two are the least common. The first two items are also the most important and the last two are the least important.

GOOD TEACHING

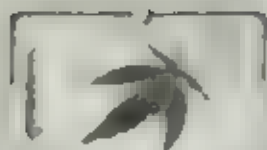

CHALLENGES

*4/11
CGR*

Mr. C. A. Reynolds and Mr. Kenneth Beaver.

THE ADMINISTRATION

Heading up a factory for learning is a weighty task for any man. Authority must be doled out in correct amounts, impartiality must be displayed, good judgment must be used, a willingness to work for the betterment of the school must be present. These qualities are very much a part of the make-up of Mr. Kenneth Beaver, Superintendent of the Gilmer County Schools, and Mr. C. A. Reynolds, Principal of Gilmer High. As he plans to make the most of every opportunity, Mr. Beaver has led the Gilmer schools to new achievements. Walking the halls, visiting a class, making announcements during assembly, talking over a problem, Mr. Reynolds is a familiar figure to every Gilmer High student. Ready to praise when credit was due or to reprimand when necessary, he expressed his pride in being the head of our fine school.

THE FACULTY--A PATIENT PEOPLE

How can we as students understand the overwrought nerves, tensed emotions, tired voices of those who teach us? We can sit quietly and daydream our worries away while a teacher, no matter how keyed up, must continue to do what he is there to do and that is to teach. He must keep a tight rein on his emotions no matter how discourteous the girl in the back of the room or how stubborn the boy in the first row. With patience a teacher can attain wonders in procuring answers from that stubborn boy; without it that discourteous girl may never again hold respect for the instructor.

Star Student

Through his superior scholastic achievement, Billy Waters, Gilmer's most outstanding basketball athlete, has gained the honor of Star Student, 1968. A dependable Senior, Billy holds the position of chief photographer on the BOBCAT staff. Without the aid he has given, the 1968 BOBCAT would be a poor excuse for a school yearbook. Tied for top region 3-A scoring, Billy is an outstanding athlete determined to be first in region scoring. Aside from these qualities, Billy has shown himself to be a mature young adult, striving to reach the high goals he has set for himself.

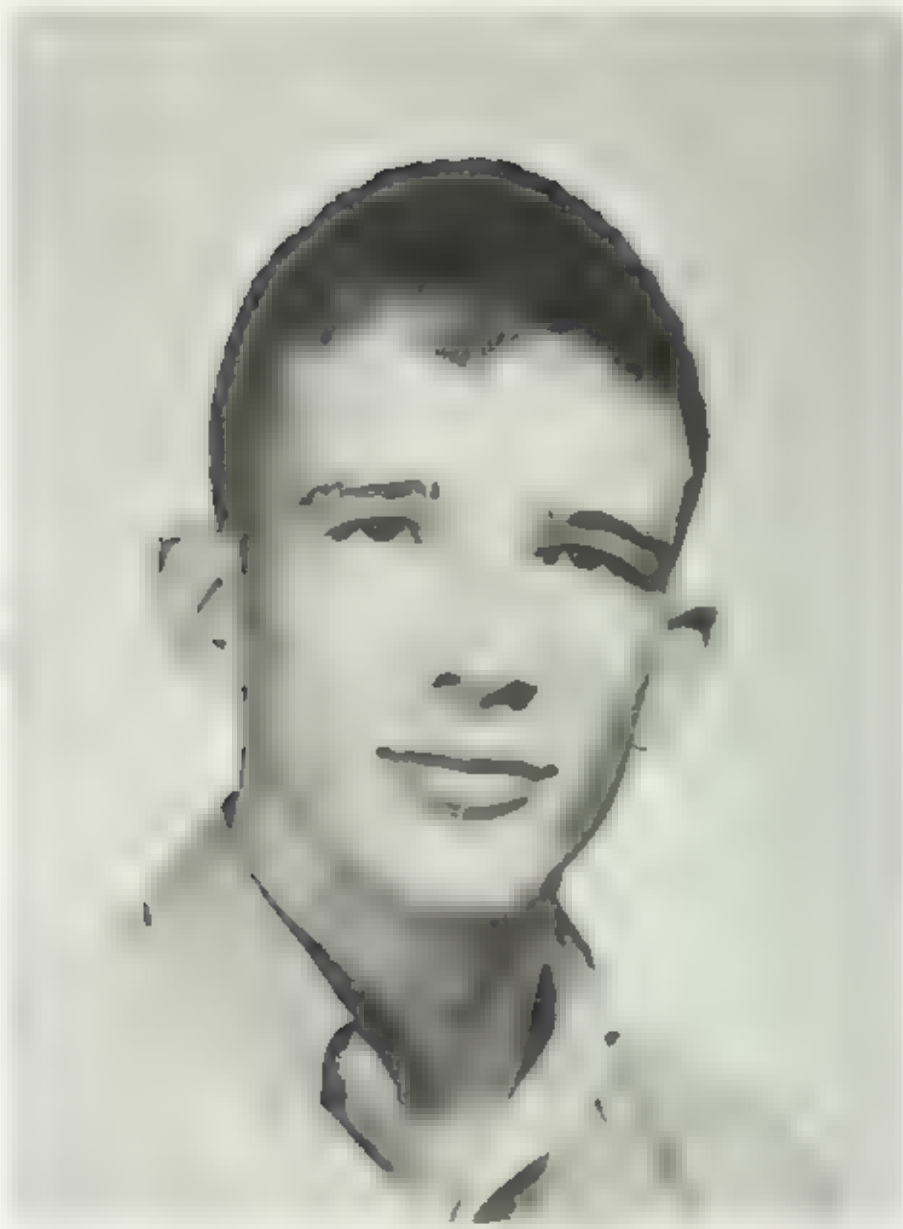

SENIORS ATTAIN TOP HONORS

Sandra Sanford, an exceptional Senior, took top honors in the Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow test. An excellent seamstress who sews much of her personal wardrobe, Sandra is not limited to sewing only, being a select cook and an efficient economist among her other attributes. A unique individual, Sandra is reserved in manner, worthy of character, and of a benevolent nature; she unquestionably deserves the title of Homemaker of Tomorrow.

Homemaker Of Tomorrow

IN MEMORY OF CHARLES WEAVER

Let no man write Charlie's epitaph. His kind heart and sense of humor alone immortalized him forever in the hearts of those who knew him.

A friend to everyone, Charles was always there to brighten the day with a witty, good-natured remark. He helped to make classes livelier and friendships stronger, not only by his warm vitality, but by his presence alone.

Let no man write his epitaph, he wrote it himself . . .

Hello to the friendliest person I know. I don't believe anyone can ever surpass your outgoing personality, the big smile,
and that cheerful look.
I hope you can keep those things always. Remember

Martha,
I have greatly enjoyed going to school with you again this year. It's been great knowing you these past few years and I am very happy to say that I consider you to be one of my very best friends.
We've had some great times this the H. H. P. test of which I shall never forget. So bad it looks like we won't get to go to Oak Ridge again this year. Chemistry II show has been really hard it.

Marty,
Well another year

all of it looking back was great even the (most) of the bad ones. You're a great kid Marty and I want to wish you all certainly deserve them.

Heh, long may she reign! Next year,
dear old buddy, we won't win 3 games,
we'll win 18! O.K.?

I hope you have a good time at someday I'll see your dress, O.K.

I would write more, but that
